So Sad the Songs

Gallavin releases a new album of vocal jazz and French songs under the sign of melancholy:
*So Sad the Songs

Gallavin releases his second album So Sad the Songs. Under the sign of melancholy, this album traces the spleens of lost years and time passing by. It narrates the solitude of old broken hearted lovers whose once flamboyant passion has faded out throughout the seasons. So Sad the Songs is a journey through nostalgic and melancholic songs of yesterday arranged by Guy-François Leuenberger and Pierre Sottas.

The first single Avec le temps from Léo Ferré and its music video highlight the spirit of the new album. In a chiaroscuro atmosphere, the music video symbolizes with the circular movements how time weakens our passions and leaves us frozen in big the theatre of our lives. Music video *Avec le temps: <http://youtu.be/CTLJZSby3sk>.

The music video La chanson des vieux amants, single of the album So Sad the Songs, won the 10th November 14 the award for most moving music video at the RightOutTV Music & Video Awards 2014. Music video: <http://youtu.be/V3MpOrS3ysY>.
